

Actively Engage in Reading

Your brain has to do a lot while it is reading. As you read this text, list a few of the things that your brain is doing. Examples of this are shown below.

On Page...	I noticed my brain was actively engaged when I... (possible answers) <ul style="list-style-type: none">• ...made a prediction about what would happen next, then noted if my prediction was right or wrong.• ...realized that I was not comprehending what I was reading, then went back and reread.• ...had a question about the text.• ...made an inference using the clues from the text. The clues that I used were...• ...used visualization to create a mental image from the text.